Plans Being Perfected for the 22nd Annual Speakers Will Be Here for the Grand Occasion

Professor Bragg and his associates have been unusually busy for the past few weeks making the arrangements for the presentation of the new gymnasium on the twenty-second day of February. Although the grand program has not as yet been given out it can be seen that the occasion will be one of much importance.

The Hon. W. M. Williams of the class of '96, better known as "Billy," will be the Master of Ceremonies. Since we have had the pleasure of hearing Mr. Williams before we have no doubts that he will but do justice to that post of honor.

The presentation in the name of the Alumni will be given by its president, Professor Thomas Bragg of the class of '01. Governor Henderson, president of the Board of Trustees, will receive the gymnasium in the name of the State.

Among other noted speakers of the occasion will be found:

Prof. C. S. Brown, of Vanderbilt University.

Prof. S. S. Wallace, of Georgia School of Technology.

Prof. W. N. Randall, of Georgia School of Technology.

Prof. S. V. Sanford, of the University of Georgia.

Capt. W. T. Shehan, Editor of the Montgomery Advertiser.

This is only a partial list of the speakers, as many others are expected to be present. The details and parts that the student body is to play in the event will be given out when final arrangements have been made.

Large Crowds Turn Out

The most conspicuous thing about class football is the number of candidates that are out. Though not apparently as large individually as usual there are a great many more out. This is especially true of the candidates for the Freshman and Junior classes, for which there have been in all nearly a hundred candidates out. What the candidates lack in size they make up in willingness and aggressiveness. There has never appeared in the field more spirit or more willingness to give and take hard knocks than among the candidates for the class football team.

THE PI KAPPA DELTA FORENSIC HONOR SOCIETY

New Society Established at Auburn

A little less than a year ago the society of Pi Kappa Delta was brought into Auburn by three students, under the direction of Mr. E. A. Vaughn. Since then every thing possible has been done by this organization to foster the spirit of debate oratory or any form of forensic skill. The aim of the society is primarily this, and feeling the need of intercollegiate debate and oratory the fraternity was introduced. As yet we have no chapter, but it is the ardent desire of those members at large of the National chapter that soon a number sufficient to petition for a charter will be obtained, and Pi Kappa Delta will take its place as one of Auburn's permanent honors. The requirements of membership to Pi Kappa Delta are that a student engage in an intercollegiate debate or oratorical contest, and that he or she be in good collegiate standing.

The fraternity compares favorably with the two other similar organizations, Delta Sigma Rho and Tau Kappa Alpha, having fewer chapters than D. S. R., and more than the T. K. A. S. It is in many

LARGE AUDIENCE HEARS ZOELLNER QUARTET

Second Appearance in Auburn

The Zoellner String Quartet made their second successful appearance before a most appreciative Auburn audience on Tuesday Jan. 25th. Their program included several of the world's greatest composers and the interpretation of the quartet upon these great musicians proved them to be artists of no mean ability. The most popular of their numbers proved to be the Deer Dance and the War Dance written by Skilton. They played for their encore number the Minuet, by Ballasant. Their second encore number was appreciated most of all by the audience. It was a medley of Southern songs and the manner in which these Belgium artists handled Dixie was marvelous and most inspiring.

The program was as follows: Antoinette Zoellner, Violin. Amandus Zoellner, Violin.

Prof. Thos. Bragg Elected President of Southern Conference

Athletics in the South was placed on a higher plane when Athletic representatives from the leading colleges of the South met in Knoxville, Tenn., and adopted a one-year residence rule for football players, the same to become effective January 1, 1917. Another resolution was adopted which forbids the playing of intercollegiate games after 1917, between conference teams and non-conference teams in S. I. A. A. territory, unless that team enforces the one-year rule.

Auburn was represented at this important gathering by Prof. Thos. Bragg and Coach M. J. Donahue. The force which Auburn has always exerted in the betterment of athletic conditions was recognized in the unanimous election of Prof. Thomas Bragg to the Presidency of the Conference.

Mr. Henry E. Dougherty of Knoxville, Tenn., in commenting upon the success of the Conference and its value to the colleges of the south, handed the following bouquet to Prof. Bragg.

There is a general approval from the public as well as from the Tennessee athletic authorities, in the selection of Thomas Bragg, of Auburn, as the initial president of the new association. Prof. Bragg made a number of friends in Knoxville because of his geniality, friendliness and scholarly bearing. When he was elected president he took hold of the reins of government with a rush, and there were no lagging movements at any time during the conclave.

The Conference adopted a one-year residence rule for football players, making it effective January 1, 1917, and voted the following resolution:

"Beginning Jan. 1, 1917, no member of this conference shall participate in any intercollegiate contest with an institution eligible to membership in this conference, but not a member.

"Provided, however, that this rule shall not apply to S. I. A. A. colleges in the event the S. I. A. A. adopts a one-year rule and shall not apply to the A. C. S. S. U. as long as that association plays under the one-year rule."

Resolutions were also adopted hitting at the gambling evil and recommended the appointment of a board to select officials for the conference games.

Both Prof. Bragg and Coach Donahue were delighted at the cordial and most hospitable manner in which they were treated and were unanimous in their praise of the University of Tennessee as host.

The sporting editor of the Knoxville Sentinel, who will be remembered as the strongest advocate of the Tennessee claims to Championship honors in 1914, made it a point

AUBURN LOSES TO A. & M. IN DEBATE

The Auburn debating team reached North Carolina A. & M. Friday morning Jan. 28, and was very hospitably received. Both faculty and students did all in their power to make the stay of Auburn's representatives a pleasant one, and they certainly did so. The boys' showed the visitors over the college grounds and buildings and all places of interest in Raleigh. The State museum is said to be the best in the South, and from the reports of our boys it is indeed worthy of the city's pride.

The debate was held in the Y. M. C. A. auditorium Friday night. The hall was not very large, but was filled with students and visitors. N. C. was well represented by Messrs. J. F. Williams, and D. A. Munrow, and Auburn by Mr. D. D. Sanders, and Mr. Armstrong Cory. Although the Auburn boys were defeated they acquitted themselves with honor and fought well for their college. The following letter is sufficient proof of this as well as of the splendid spirit of hospitality with which the visiting team was received and entertained.

CHIPS FROM THE STONE-CUTTERS

At the recent banquet-initiation of the "Stone-Cutters", M. V. Zimmerman, P. R. Smith, W. C. McKay, and J. H. Heyman became members of his honorary fraternity. As it is an organization of men interested in literary work, bids are tendered as a recognition of ability along literary lines.

The society, composed of fifteen members, is showing much activity. At the last regular meeting an excellent program was rendered. Much credit for this is due to the work of Messrs. King and Billings of the program committee.

J. D. Brown gave a discussion on the subject of "National Preparedness", and advanced several reasons why our own country should follow the pace set by most of the European countries. Following this, Clyde Donahue gave a humorous reading, which was much enjoyed by all. The results of dramatic training were shown by the clearness with which he brought out the points of the story.

The program, as announced for the next meeting, promises to be an interesting one. Ernest Slager will talk the subject of "Student Needs", and "Mike" Zimmerman will give a short selection from some popular author. "Co-ed" King will give a reading of the poem, "The Truce of the Bear," by Kipling, which will be a continuation of the subject of a paper of the last meeting.

This organization should do much for the good of "Auburn," and should be an asset to the college, in its way, just as the debating team is in another sense. Let's hope that it will keep up the good work so auspiciously begun.

For some mysterious reason most of the noise in the picture show has been greatly reduced. However, there still remains room for improvement, as a few boys still persist in trying to be a nuisance. If those who are interested in the welfare of this institution and in the picture shows, to say nothing of those who have at least some respect for the ladies, would only try to put this down entirely, the result would add greatly to the pleasure of all who attend the shows.

Due to the approaching mid-term examination, as is always the custom, there will be no issue of the Orange and Blue next week. Perhaps in this length of time the editors in the various departments can scare up a few news items. Contributions are becoming scarcer each day from the student body. These contributions are always gladly received, as they portray the interests of the students, and it is the sole object of this paper to deal with student affairs and student life in general. Do not keep your ideas to yourself as they may be valuable as well as useful to your fellow man, and there are not enough good ones in this world to let them go absolutely to waste as a day dream.

Have you heard of the town of no-Good,
On the banks of the River Slow;
Where the Some-Time-or-Other scents the air
And the soft Go-Easies grow?
It lies in the Valley of What's-the-Use,
In the Province of Let-Her-Slide;
It's the home of the reckless I-Dont-Care,
Where the Give-It-Ups abide.
The town is as old as the human race
And grows with the flight of years;
It's wrapped in the fog of Idler's Dreams;
Its streets are paved with discarded schemes,
And are sprinkled with useless tears.

OUR DOCILE BOSSY COW.

Our bossy cow is made of tin,
Her hide is round and slick.
She is a gentle mannered beast,
She doesn't hook nor kick.

A can op'ner is all you need
To milk this gentle creature;
Which appeals to timid ladies as
A most important feature.

Our bossy cow is made of tin,
She's fat and round and stout,
And when you turn her upside down
The milk comes spouting out.

Her pasture's in a grocery store,
With others of her kind,
And if you want to take her home,
She's yours for just a dime.

KEEPING YOUR CHIN UP.

"You're sick of the game!" Well,
now that's a shame.
You're young, and you're brave,
and you're bright.

"You've had a raw deal!" I know,
but don't squeal;
Buck up, do your darndest, and fight.

It's the plugging away that will win
you the day,
So don't be a piker, old pard;
Just draw on your grit. It's so easy to quit;
It's the keeping-your-chin-up
that's so hard.

FOOTBALL BANISHED AT CARLISLE.

The United States Interior Department has abolished football at Carlisle. The action is based on the claim that football interferes with studies.

A medal offered by the Alpha Gamma chapter of the Pi Kappa Alpha fraternity exclusively for members of the freshman class and based upon scholarship and deportment has been announced by members of the fraternity.—Reville.

Twenty military schools have entered teams for the national shooting trophy for military schools presented by the war department.—Va. Tech.

The faculty representatives of the Middle West Conference Athletic Association, which comprises the "Big Nine Colleges," voted to abolish intercollegiate baseball 6 to 3. The matter now goes to the faculties of the various schools.

Many of the great officials and coaches of the middle west are advocating the adoption of a new rule in football, abolishing the free kick for goal after a touchdown. They claim that a free goal is too small a margin to win a game.

Among those advocating such a change in the rules are Dave Fultz, Bill Langford, "Hurry-up" Yost, Dr. Sharpe, Zupke of Illinois and Dr. Williams of the University of Minnesota.—Va. Tech.

John Neal Campbell, representative of Vanderbilt to the Ford Peace Mission, and the Hustler's war correspondent in the German field, has finally succeeded in gaining an interview with the German Emperor, a feat never before accomplished by any correspondent of a scholastic journal from this country.—Hustler.

The condition of Bennett Jared, who was injured in the Vanderbilt-Tennessee game, is critical at present. Several days ago he was operated on for appendicitis.—Hustler.

The total number of students now at the A. & M. of Texas is 958—Battalion.

Half of these Havana fillers are really cemetery fillers.

AGRICULTURAL NOTES.

Last Friday night was known as "Sophomore night" in the Agricultural club. The night was given over to the Sophomores, who presented an interesting program.

The men taking part in the program were: W. S. Black, J. H. Martin, B. H. Hayes and T. A. Sims. All of the talks were good. They showed that the men had spent time in studying and preparing for that night.

Some of the men objected to being put on the program but when they realized that the committee had placed that much confidence in them they were not willing to shirk duty. Each man was there on time and showed obedience to the club and did credit and honor to his class.

Some committees were appointed by the president. One of them being a committee to make plans for the banquet which is to take place just after second term exams. Let's every man begin to plan for this. It is going to be the biggest and best one known in the history of the club.

THAT ALGEBRA QUIZ OF TODAY

I work and work and then some more

But it seems that I can't thrive;
Instead of making just a four
I am branded with a five.

That "dawgone" math. just got my goat.

Yet hours did I bone;
My brain must be a tiny mote,
Or chiseled out of stone.

On any one I've work'd two hours
And never gained an inch.

That 1x1 to all the powers
Was never called a cinch.

You fixed us cause we be that class
That went away so glad;
But now you will not let us pass;
You surely must be mad.

AUBURN LOSES IN DEBATE.

speakers had us in the fear of death, particularly in the rejoinder, where a speaker benefits most conspicuously by readiness, self-possession, and general culture. Mr. Corey, of your team, was better informed, I think, and certainly he discerned the issues more clearly than any other speaker on the floor; and at one time he had our men in a corner from which I thought they could not escape. If our last speaker had not miraculously scrambled out and turned on some heavy artillery, I think your team would have won the decision.

Your speakers have made a distinctly favorable impression as both men and speakers, and they have added, if that be possible, to our liking and respect for your splendid institution.

I may add that our victory last night, though I think a fair victory, was won by no great margin. It was nothing like so sweeping a victory as that which Mr. Wilkinson and Mr. Campbell won a year ago; in fact, ours was not a sweeping victory at all. In vividness and appeal, in which respects your team last year showed great superiority, I think our team was the better last night. In knowledge of facts and theory I rated our team first. The student correspondent of the Raleigh morning says outright in the paper that Mr. Corey was the best speaker of the four.

The judges of the debate were Chief Justice Walter Clark of the State Supreme Court, Hon. R. W. Winston (one of the leading North Carolina lawyers), and Hon. J. Bryan Grimes, Secretary of State for North Carolina. These gentlemen are all University of North Carolina men, and, therefore, not inclined to strain a point in our favor. They rendered, I believe, the right decision, certainly an opinion without prejudice.

I am, with cordial good wishes,
Sincerely yours,

GEORGE SUMMEY, Jr.

Auburn is looking forward to the next clash with N. C., and expects to send the Carolina boys back next year in defeat. We are sure that Auburn will leave nothing undone to make their visit as pleasant as was that of our team this year.

PI KAPPA DELTA.

respects, more complete than the other forensic honor societies since Pi Kappa Delta honors its members by degrees and classes. It maintains a place for instruction in public speaking, debate and declamation, and one never reaches the highest pinnacle, but there is a still higher goal to work to.

Both men and women are eligible to membership and it is with interest that we note the large number of college women enrolled in the chapters of our northern colleges where Pi Kappa Delta has its strongest hold.

Auburn is the first southern college to have members in P. K. D. and it befits her ambitions and endeavors that she lead in this line as in the realms of other activities, referring of course to our athletic achievements.

So far Auburn has three Intercollegiate debates scheduled this year; one with North Carolina A. & M., one with Mississippi A. & M., and one with Tulane University.

These are open to every one and it is a duty of every student to try out for one or all of these contests. How far would we go in football each year if only a half team went out for practice. Our mother tongue and the ability to use it before an audience may help a man more than the football in the near future, and should receive more serious and thoughtful consideration from the student body. Another thing, we heard an inspiring argument last year when Tulane, with more experience and knowledge in debating, caused our team to take a two to one count, and it should be the ambition of every student to try to come back at Tulane this year with better than we gave them last. We need their scalp and the men we send to New Orleans should be the best the college has. Do not hide your talent in your books, if you can even stutter a speech "open up" and let us see what you have.

Pi Kappa Delta is watching with interest the result of these coming debates and the men who made the North Carolina trip, Mr. Cory and Mr. Saunders, deserve a good deal of credit for their work. May their return from Raleigh be with wreaths of the victors' laurels which shows old Auburn is as many sided as Polytechnic designates.

For any information more in detail about Pi Kappa Delta, call on Mr. L. T. Wells, the president of the Debating Council.

to look up Tom Bragg and Mike Donahue, as he said, "because I wrote so darn much about their 'foolish' claim to the championship, that I wanted to see how they looked." Afterwards he delivered himself of these two paragraphs concerning the gentlemen mentioned.

Thomas Bragg, of Auburn is a fine scout. He remembers very distinctly certain arguments between Tennessee and Auburn in 1914 relative to the mythical football championship of the south. "Yes we claimed it," Prof. Bragg said, "and we had a good claim too. But let's bury the hatchet, and then prepare to fight future battles."

A very well known individual, in the person of Mike J. Donahue, Auburn football coach, is attending the Southern athletic conference here. Donahue does not care to talk about Auburn teams, strange to say, and when asked if it would be practicable for Tennessee to get in on the Auburn schedule some season, he said: "We know one season just what our schedule will be the next year. We have contracts with a number of elevens calling for definite dates each year, and these contracts are of an indefinite nature. But some team may drop off the schedule, you know, and of course we would have to fill in. Auburn would like very much to sign up with Tennessee, I believe."

SOCIETY NOTES

R. F. WALTHOUR

The following announcement is of great interest to Auburn men.

Mrs. Mary Arnold Browder announces the engagement of her daughter, Eleanor Irvine, to Mr. Henry Gray Carter, of Atlanta, Ga. The wedding will be quietly solemnized early in February.

This announcement will be of interest to many friends, as both young people are popular members of the younger set. Miss Browder is a petite brunette, and is bright and attractive. She has many friends who wish for her every happiness, but who regret that her marriage will take her to another city to make her home. Mr. Carter is a popular young business man of Atlanta, and has many friends in this city, where he has often visited.

Gray Carter, a member of the class of '14, was one of the most popular members of his class. He was always interested in every phase of college life, especially its social life. "CROWS" DANCE IN OPELIKA.

One of the largest and most enjoyable dances that the young people of our city have had the pleasure of attending in quite a while was that of Friday evening, when the young men were the gracious hosts at the armory.

Beautiful music was furnished by the Auburn College Orchestra, and the delighted guests danced until the wee small hours. Mrs. J. H. Drake and Mrs. O. N. Matthews chaperoned on this occasion. A bevy of charming out of town girls were guests. Among them were: Misses Clyde O'Neal and Louise Scarbrough of Columbus, Misses Julia Henry, Birdie Kline Peoples and Dorothy Kimbell of Auburn and Sallie Kirkpatrick of Montgomery. About thirty fraternity men of Auburn were present and the dances during the evening numbered seventy-five.

The dance given Saturday night by A. P. I. club in Thomas Hall was the first big dance held in Auburn this year. It was also the first of the entertainments that the A. P. I. club has planned to give this season.
